A COBRA experience like no other

The Healthy Dollars, Inc. COBRA solution delivers a simplified approach to what is inherently a complex, challenging and time-consuming HR function. Enhanced capabilities and first-of-its-kind self-service tools enable employers to not only streamline COBRA communications, reporting, enrollment, and billing and payment processes, but also offer an enhanced participant experience that seamlessly guides employees through the post-employment health benefits process in a simplified and meaningful way.

Key advantages

Healthy Dollars, Inc. offers a new take on COBRA administration.

Flexible employer structure & benefit eligibility design: Whether an employer's organizational structure is simple or extremely complex, our COBRA platform can easily accommodate their system specifications, including unique requirements associated with various employee populations and plan designs they maintain.

Fully automated self-service tools: Our simple and intuitive platform includes an automated wizard that allows employers to easily create qualifying events, enables them to be self-sufficient and perform basic functions that historically have required administrator assistance, and provides full transparency into and a real-time view of participant data.

End-to-end automation: Every step in the participant lifecycle is automated. Once an employer enters a participant's information, the system automatically moves them through every step in the process – from communications through payment processing – without requiring additional touchpoints.

Flexible reporting & data exporting: Access to real-time data and the ability to create custom reports ensures employers have ongoing access to the metrics that are most important to their organization; Microsoft Excel export capabilities allow them to easily visualize, manipulate and evaluate program data.

User controls: Employers can restrict access rights based on role, business function, or other parameters established by their organization.

Flexible premium disbursement schedules: Employers can select their preferred payment schedule- weekly, bi-weekly, or monthly.

Enhanced participant experience: Participants have quick and easy access to everything they need to know about their COBRA account, all from within the online portal. From how much they owe to when their next payment is due to whether their last payment was received, participants are able to view key information about their account with a single click, resulting in fewer calls and support needs.

Various payment options: Participants can select their preferred payment method – online credit, debit, or ACH as well as the option to mail a check.
